Dad killed after car leaves road

BY JACK GROVE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A FATHER-OF-THREE has died after losing control of his car and hitting a tree.

Stuart Woor, 41, was driving in heavy rain when his Subaru Impreza left the A1307 Cambridge Road, near Linton, on Sunday evening.

Mr Woor, an engineer for Veolia Water, was cut free by firefighters, but died at Addenbrooke's Hospital.

He leaves a wife and three young children, who were this week being consoled at the family's home in Little Thurlow.

Speaking on behalf of the family, close friend Alison Ives said: "Stuart was a wonderful, devoted family man.

"Sadly he leaves behind a wife, three small children, close family and lots of dear family friends.

"He was a great man who will be sadly missed."

Mr Woor was a member of Haverhill Running Club and competed in several races.

He was also regional secretary of the Institute of Water, which represents water industry professionals.

A Veolia Water spokesman said: "Stuart worked for Veolia Water for 20 years and was a valued and trusted employee.

"We were shocked and saddened to hear of his death and our thoughts go out to his family at this time."

Police said no other vehicles were involved in the crash, but described the driving conditions as highly hazardous in heavy rain.

If you can help the investigation into the crash, call police on 0345 4564564.

TRAGEDY: Stuart with his wife. He was killed after losing control of his car in heavy rain and hitting a tree on the A1307 on Sunday.

Police seek man who chased girl in alley

POLICE want to trace a man who ran towards a 9-year-old girl after staring at her.

The incident happened in an alleyway off Sheepgate Lane, Clare, between 8.35am and 8.40am on Tuesday. The girl, who was walking with her bike, ran to a place of safety.

The man is described as white, around 38 years old, of slim build and was wearing blue jeans, a short grey jacket and a black trilby hat.

Anyone with information should call Pc Ruth Horton at the St Edmundsbury Rural South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Thieves take flight with stolen swan planter

A HEAVY concrete plant container in the shape of a swan has been stolen from outside a house.

The white-painted planter was taken from Marlborough Court, Haverhill, between 6pm last Wednesday and 4pm the following day. It was worth around £30 and did not have any plants in it.

Anyone with information should call Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

No further action for burglary suspect pair

TWO men arrested on suspicion of aggravated burglary have been told they will not be charged.

The men, aged 27 and 30, and both from Haverhill, were questioned by officers investigating an incident at Elmdon Place in the town on June 19.

They were released on bail but have now been told they face no further action in connection with the alleged incident.

Duo face court over coach depot break-in

TWO men have been charged with a burglary at a temporary building at a coach depot.

Robert Norris, 21, of Westward Deals, Kedington, and Joe Kibble, also 21, of Charrington Close, Haverhill, are due before Bury magistrates on Friday, October 8.

They are accused of burglary at the depot in Duddery Hill, Haverhill, in the early hours of Tuesday.

Firefighters tackles blaze after collision

A CAR collided with a wall causing a fire to break out.

The incident happened in High Street, Haverhill, at 8.30am last Thursday. Firefighters were called to the scene and two appliances from the town attended. The fire service isolated the electrics and the fire was under control by 8.43am.

Mindless vandals pull down garden wall

YOBS pulled over a garden wall causing it to fall on the pavement.

The incident happened in Abbotts Road, Haverhill, on the night of Sunday, September 19.

Anyone with information should call Suffolk on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers 0800 555111.

New gym takes shape for exercise outdoors

AN outdoor gym for children and adults was officially opened at East Town Park in Haverhill on Monday.

The 'green gym' is suitable for all ages and uses people's body weight as resistance.

It has been funded by the Haverhill Partnership which provided the £17,208 it received as a grant from Suffolk County Council. Abbeycroft Leisure contributed £1,278.

Three pieces of equipment – a cross trainer, an exercise bike and a hand bike – work the cardiovascular system to help increase fitness levels and build on the body's capacity to utilise the heart and lungs when exercising.

There are also three pieces of equipment which will help tone the user's body. The chest press and lateral pull down machine tone the chest and back muscle. The leg press tones leg muscles and the oblique machine tones the side of the stomach. Amelia Epton, Abbeycroft Leisure's sports development officer, who organised the project, said: "There has been some research around how green exercise has been shown to have a positive effect on a person's health so we were delighted to be involved in this project."

Cllr Anne Gower, St Edmundsbury Borough Council cabinet member for Haverhill, and the Friends of East Town Park who have pledged to use the green gym regularly, attended the ceremony.

Services hand-off plan dangerous, says union

A COUNCIL'S bid to save money by passing services to companies, community groups and charities has come under fire.

Suffolk County Council has agreed a policy of "divesting" itself of some functions as part of a new "strategic direction".

The move, taken in advance of next month's expected Government announcement of a 30 per cent cut in council finance, will mean job cuts at the council.

But at this stage no details have been given about where the cuts will be made.

Dave Prentis, general secretary of the council workers union UNISON, said: "This is not the way to run council services. There will be no democratic accountability.

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"Leaving vital services like child protection, home care and support for young people to the vagaries of the market is very dangerous.

"Services will be sold off to the lowest bidder, starting a race to the bottom. People using local services, and those working to provide them, will pay the price."

The council's leading Conservative group has spoken of transferring some functions to "social enterprise organisations – which could be run by former council staff – as well as charities and other organisations.

Cllr Jeremy Pembroke, the council leader, said: "This decision was made with consideration to the financial deficit in the public sector and the Coalition Government's priority to reduce the deficit and the size of the state.

"The Coalition requires lesser government and a bigger society, and Suffolk County Council has responded to this change."

But the council's Green group leader Cllr Andrew Stringer described it as a "Dad's Army" way of running services.

Cllr Colin Noble, who represents the Rowheath division covering villages in the Mildenhall and Newmarket area, said the comment was unfair as many charities such as Age UK were "very professional".

Cllr Noble, the council's portfolio holder for adult and community services, said: "The money we save will be used to buffer the people of Suffolk to some of the cuts that are coming."

Cllr Lisa Chambers, who represents Newmarket and Red Lodge and is the council's portfolio holder for waste, said: "I think it is quite exciting for the community because it will give them more control and more chance of a say in the services they want."

Firefighters set to scrub

FIREFIGHTERS will be washing cars to raise money for their national charity on Saturday.

Members of the crew at Haverhill fire station will join firefighters across the country to take part in the fundraising event.

All proceeds will go to The Fire Fighters Charity, an organisation which helps 13,000 men, women and children from the fire community every year.

Fire stations in Cambridgeshire are also taking part in the day.

Meet your local team

MEMBERS of Haverhill's police safer neighbourhood team will be staging "street meets" where the public can raise any concerns with them.

The team will be in Haycocks Road on Saturday from 10am to 11am and outside Tesco in Cangle Road between 6pm and 7pm on Thursday, October 7.

Alec knocks 'em for six with visit to school

ASPIRING young cricketers got some top tips and words of wisdom from a former captain of England.

Alec Stewart visited Barnardiston Hall Preparatory School to share his expertise with pupils.

He is one of the most capped English cricketers of all time, having played in 133 tests and 170 one-day internationals.

The former wicketkeeper and batsman took part in a practice session with a group of around 25 players, aged 11-13, and followed that with a chat with pupils, parents and staff over tea.

He is also an ambassador for Clydesdale Bank, and later hosted a question and answer session at the bank's centre in Fornham All Saints.

Mel Barker, managing partner at Clydesdale Bank's financial solutions centre, said: "We are delighted to be able to bring Alec along to the school.

"The visit forms part of our ongoing ambassador programme, which helps us to support our local community."

Healthy figures in annual study

MORE than three in four deaths in the Haverhill area are caused by cancer, cardiovascular and respiratory disease.

The annual public health report published by NHS Suffolk shows that in the period 2006-2008, the diseases accounted for 75.4 per cent of all deaths in St Edmundsbury.

The report gives an in-depth health profile of each local authority area in the county, as well as an overview of Suffolk.

It highlights the differences in life expectancy and lifestyle behaviours, the main causes of death and details of health improvement initiatives in each district.

In St Edmundsbury, 15.1 per cent of people aged 16 and over were classified as obese or mortally obese, compared to 15.7 per cent for the whole county.

People in the district have lower levels of "dangerous drinking" than the county average – 18.9 per cent reported hazardous and harmful levels of alcohol consumption compared with 19.2 per cent for Suffolk.

An estimated 439 people in St Edmundsbury died from smoking in 2005-2007. The average life expectancy of men is 80 years, four years less than for women.

Dr Peter Bradley, public health director of NHS Suffolk and Suffolk County Council, said: "In St Edmundsbury there are a number of initiatives to improve health and wellbeing.

"These include the new Wellman Clinic introduced by the Haverhill

Association of Voluntary Organisations in partnership with the Crown Health Centre.

"Initially introduced as a pilot, men can now have an MOT check between 8am-8pm, any day of the week."

The report has been compiled following work carried out by the University Campus Suffolk, the borough and district councils, Suffolk local strategic partnerships, NHS Suffolk, NHS Great Yarmouth and Waveney and Suffolk County Council, as well as a number of local voluntary organisations.

Dr Bradley said: "Suffolk is already a healthy county.

"Over the last decade life expectancy has continued to increase to an average of 79.4 years for men and 83.4 years for women."

Ambassador post for Liam

A YOUNG dyspraxia sufferer has been appointed the first national young ambassador of the Dyspraxia Foundation.

Liam Plumridge, 20, of Beaufort Court, Haverhill, has also been made a trustee of the charity.

He will be leading the foundation's group of teens and young adults with dyspraxia, supported by a peer group called Team Dyspraxia.

People with dyspraxia struggle to cope with everyday tasks and have trouble with co-ordination.

Sally Payne, chairwoman of the Dyspraxia Foundation, said: "We are delighted that Liam has come onboard to be our national young ambassador.

"With Liam's commitment and enthusiasm I am sure we can develop more opportunities for activities for everyone with dyspraxia, as well as raise much-needed awareness of the disability and to steer our young panel into making much more informed decisions about the running of the foundation and how we want to go forward."

Several years ago, Liam travelled to Ecuador to take part in the BBC 2 programme Beyond Boundaries.

He recently spent a year at West Suffolk College, Bury St Edmunds, on an Access to Higher Education course in English, history and social sciences, where he gained a pass and will now go to the University of Brighton to study international travel management.

Liam said: "I am looking forward to such an amazing three or four years of my life getting involved in two of my biggest passions – raising awareness of dyspraxia and chairing the dyspraxia young people's panel, combined with studying another passion of mine, the travel industry and hopefully going on to work in the industry."

Free school plans move forward with open evening

PLANS to set up one of just 16 "free schools" in the country will be discussed in Clare next week.

Stour Valley Community School has been selected by the Government to progress to the final stage for approval.

The Stour Valley Educational Trust aims to open its doors in September 2011. The school would be on the site of the current Clare Middle School.

Parents, families and children are invited to an open evening at Clare Middle School from 7pm to 9pm on Tuesday.

The school would be initially designed to take 600 pupils aged 11 to 16 and priority would be given to children starting at a new secondary school in September 2011.

Honour for 'strong, dedicated' athlete

Paralympic athlete Caroline Mclean won the Sports Personality of the Year award at the 2010 St Edmundsbury Sports Awards this week.

Caroline, 35, from Haverhill, has competed at the Paralympics in Sydney, Athens and Beijing. She has represented Great Britain in wheelchair basketball for 15 years – all while working full time.

Caroline was also nominated in the Triumph Over Adversity Award category.

The St Edmundsbury Sports Awards, run each year by Abbeycroft Leisure, recognise outstanding sporting achievements made by sports men, women and juniors throughout the year and to celebrate the huge amount of work that takes place within sport in St Edmundsbury.

The awards ceremony was held at the Bury St Edmunds Corn Exchange on Sunday in front of 300 guests.

Caroline was presented with the award by Rick Wildridge, chairman of Haldo Developments which sponsored the award. She was nominated by her trainer and friend Mandy Felton.

Mandy said in her nomination: "To reach this level Caroline has had to train early mornings and nights, sometimes travelling 200 miles to get to training twice a week, not getting home until the early hours of the morning and then getting up at 6am for shooting practice before going to work."

"She is so strong and dedicated and never moans about anything, she just gets on with it. Caroline is a true sports person that deserves recognition for all she stands for."

Terry Wright, from West Suffolk Swimming Club, who teaches at Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds leisure centres, won the Unsung Hero Award. When Terry's eldest daughter joined the West Suffolk Swimming Club he was quick to offer help. Now all four of Terry's daughters and his wife swim with the club.

Despite having dyslexia, Terry self-funded a UKCC level 2 coaching award and is now part-way through his level 3 swimming coach qualification.

He is a volunteer coach for up to 10 hours a week. Terry is also a keen fundraiser and just 18 months ago he and his family raised £1,000 for the club in a sponsored swim.

Among the guests at Sunday's ceremony was the High Commissioner of Rwanda, Ernest Rwamucyo.

This year's theme for the awards was Rwanda as Bury St Edmunds will be home to a number of athletes from the Rwandan Olympic and Paralympic teams in 2012 as they prepare for the London Olympics.

The event was opened by an African drumming group and dancers from King Edward VI Upper School in Bury St Edmunds.

Winners of this year's awards go on to the Suffolk Sports Awards in October, hosted by Suffolk Sport. If they are successful there they could be put forward for BBC East Sports Awards.

Michelle Banfield-Curran, Abbeycroft Leisure's sports development officer, said: "We are delighted for Caroline and send her our congratulations."

"We also congratulate all the Haverhill clubs and sports men and women who were nominated for an award. They truly deserve recognition for their sporting achievements."

Super swimmer Tom off to world meet

A WORLD champion swimmer hopes to make a splash in Taiwan as he seeks to defend his crown.

Abbeycroft Leisure's sporting ambassador swimmer Tom Cole is competing in the Down Syndrome International Swimming Organisation's World Championships, which start tomorrow.

Tom learned to swim with Haverhill Leisure Centre's swim scheme. This is the fourth time he has competed in the world championships and he will face swimmers from 28 countries.

He will be competing in the 400m freestyle, 100m backstroke, 800m freestyle, 200m individual medley, 200m backstroke, 400m individual medley, 100m individual medley and an additional relay event.

Tom holds the world record for 400m individual medley as well as five European records – 200m individual medley, 200m backstroke, 200m breaststroke, 400m freestyle and 800m freestyle.

He trains every weekday at Haverhill Leisure Centre.

His mother Barbara said he would not have learnt to swim, or achieve such success, without the support of Abbeycroft Leisure, his Haverhill swim coach Pat Jason and Going for gold: swimming sensation Tom Cole.

won the special achievement award and that was the start of his career.

"The swim scheme has helped Tom endlessly and the sponsorship and support from Haverhill Leisure Centre and Abbeycroft Leisure has been amazing."

"When the leisure centre closed for a year for refurbishment they allowed Tom to use a lane of Bury St Edmunds swimming pool to continue his training. They have gone that extra mile for Tom."

"He is excited about the world championships because he loves to go away to compete but I think he is nervous too. I'm very proud of him. He has a lot of willpower and really enjoys his swimming."

Coach Pat Jason said: "The amount of training and dedication shown by Tom and his family has made Tom reach great heights."

"He will give his best and he deserves to do well because he has put in a lot of hard work, training seven times a week for an hour-and-a-half, doing an average of 3,800 metres each time."

"Tom started off by having lessons at Haverhill to learn to swim and he is a great example of what can be achieved."

Young chefs get cooking

CATERING students from Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College showed off their cookery skills when they provided the buffet for the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce's Open Networking Evening at the Days Inn on Monday.

The students demonstrated their skills through the college's new Young Chamber-led enterprise, The Bistro, to businesses in the town.

The purpose of The Bistro is to provide students with a realistic environment in which to develop their knowledge, skills, and attributes in the business of catering. For more details on forthcoming Chamber of Commerce events visit www.suffolkchamber.co.uk/haverhill

Fete fun for centenary

MORE than 100 Guides, Brownies and Rainbows took part in an old-fashioned fete to mark the centenary of the Guide movement. Youngsters between the ages of 5 and 16 from groups in and around Haverhill joined in the fun at the town's Guide headquarters in Colne Valley Road on Saturday.

The police and fire service were also present together with an array of stalls and sideshows.

There was also a contest to make a centenary hat with prizes for different age groups.

In the evening, past and present group leaders had a get-together around a camp fire.

Shopper's outrage at voucher 'fob off'

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A SUPERMARKET boss has come under fire for giving a £30 gift voucher as compensation after a "sharp object" was found in a jar of coffee.

Clive Sweeting, of Risbridge Drive, Kedington, complained to Justin King, Sainsbury's group chief executive, after he found the object in a jar of the company's own-brand Gold Roast instant coffee.

Mr King responded by sending him a £30 voucher.

But Mr Sweeting, 40, said: "I feel his offer is way out of order as we spend £110 every week in one of his stores. If I had not seen this in my coffee cup it could have been life changing to myself and family."

Mr Sweeting said the object appeared to be part of a foil seal used on the top of jars of coffee.

He said he had spooned it into his cup while making a drink and added: "If I hadn't noticed it could have ended up in my mouth."

"I don't believe in taking it back to the store so I went to the top and emailed Mr King, but he's just trying to fob me off with a £30 gift card. I think people should know about it."

"My wife always does our shopping at Sainsbury's in Haverhill, but if they treat a loyal customer like this we will go to Tesco in future."

'Not enough compensation': Clive Sweeting has complained about a "sharp object" he found in a jar of Sainsbury's own-brand coffee

Picture: Keith Heppell 681187.

What do you think? Should Mr Sweeting have received more compensation – or less? Email editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Mr Sweeting, who works for a Sawston-based drugs distribution company, and his wife Katrina, 35, have an 8-year-old daughter, Courtney.

Earlier this year, the Weekly News reported on foreign objects found in supermarket products.

In August, part of a maggots was found by a shopper in a packet of frozen vegetables bought from Tesco. And in June a metal spring was found in a packet of cheese puffs bought from Tesco in Bar Hill.

In both incidents the company said it would investigate, but did not offer any compensation.

A Sainsbury's spokesman said: "We have the highest standards of safety and take situations like this very seriously. We are liaising with our suppliers to make sure that this doesn't happen again."

"If Mr Sweeting were to send us the object we will of course investigate further."

Spreading a healthy message

AN art and photography contest will be held at Haverhill Library on Friday, October 8, to mark World Mental Health Day.

The contest, which will celebrate healthy lifestyles, will be judged by the town's mayor, Cllr Elaine McManus, along with David Doughty and Ben Carmichael.

Representatives from various organisations associated with mental health will be on hand with leaflets and information. There will also be an acoustic music performance in the High Street from MINDSET.

The event is part of Suffolk Health and Well-being Month, a campaign that brings together anti-stigma events from across the county.

The event has been co-ordinated by the Community Mental Health team, Haverhill Volunteer Centre and local agencies which are part of the Voluntary and Statutory Partnership for Mental Health in Suffolk.

Speedy upgrade for internet users

AN MP has welcomed an announcement that new super-fast broadband connections should be available in Haverhill by August of next year.

Matthew Hancock, whose West Suffolk constituency includes the town, learned yesterday that BT would upgrade the town's telephone exchange to include the latest broadband technology.

It is part of a £2.5 billion investment by BT across the country to provide superfast broadband to a million more homes.

Mr Hancock said: "I'm delighted. This is essential if Haverhill is to continue to expand and compete in this world."

"This will be a big step forward and will make life easier for people throughout Haverhill."

Mr Hancock has previously taken up the issue with BT bosses

Sell-off sparks big questions

Sir, I applaud Cllr Anne Gower for her decision to stand up to Suffolk County Council's proposal to sell off its activities. Unfortunately, the current government talks a good story but fails to deliver yet again. The sale of council activities can only be bad for local residents and should be opposed. Can the Government not see that by persisting in the threat of huge cuts they are forcing the power away from those they claim should be given it?

There are many questions which, need answering:

- How many volunteers will it take to provide the kind of services we have been accustomed to? Where will those volunteers come from when they are faced with little or no funding?
- Where is the accountability and control when services are farmed out to the private sector?
- How much is it going to cost us to go through the tender process? What controls will be in place to ensure that the process is fair and above board?
- How much will it cost to reverse this decision in the future?
- More importantly how many jobs will be lost as the result of this sell-off?

I fear this is just the start and we are in for a rough ride over the next few months as the Con-Dem Government rolls out its programme of cuts.

Ladies night out a huge success

Sir, I would like to say a very big 'thank you' to all who took part in the ladies night in Bury St Edmunds on Saturday, September 18. Wow, what a night! Rumour has it that there were more than 500 of us girls and that the evening raised a staggering £87,000 for St Nicholas Hospice. The organisation was brilliant – well done to the businesses that supported this, as well as the police, marshalls and members of the public who cheered us all or beeped their car horns in support. Well done too to all the girls who took part. It was truly a very moving evening. Can't wait until next year.

Many NHS staff are on low pay

Sir, Your readers as well as our members (whose jobs are potentially at risk pending cutbacks by central government) will be alarmed at disclosures about NHS bosses' pay. It is clearly not acceptable for huge increases to be paid to already well paid staff, when (a) we are in the middle of a recession; (b) jobs are being lost by taxpayers; and (c) many staff remaining in work face the prospect of a pay freeze. Additionally the public sector is being faced with an onslaught by a zealous right wing press, that loathes its very existence, and criticises it at every opportunity. So what if a few public servants earn more than our Prime Minister? They are far outweighed by the thousands who earn less than a tenth of the PM's salary's nominal value, and the far too many who earn around 1 per cent of its real value, when all his other benefits are taken into account.

Our care services were not perfect under the last government, but they were significantly better than those Blair inherited in 1997. It was very noticeable that public sector provision, especially by local government and the NHS, was not an issue on the doorsteps, or at hustings, prior to the election of the Con-Dem coalition.

Unison members in the public sector are dedicated employees, who will not stand by and see services destroyed, and hard-earned salaries and benefits rubbished at every opportunity. Additionally we will not allow important services to be swept away or privatised, under the guise of a need for cutbacks during a recession.

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, showed Castle Manor Upper School students taking part in a walk from Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge. It was taken in November, 1987. Keith Donno spotted himself in the photo and recalled a near disaster on the day. He said: "In the picture are myself, Linda Horobin, Marcella Grimes, Robert Masson, Maxine Fisher, Bob and two who I cannot remember. "The picture was taken outside Addenbrooke's as we had done a sponsored walk from Addenbrooke's to Castle Manor. This was to raise money for hampers for the elderly for Christmas. "It was a cold damp day, as you can see, but we all stuck together singing and dancing the 15-mile stretch, well, apart from the bit when a Mini span off the road and hit me in the side. "But a great day and the pensioners of Haverhill were very thankful of our efforts."

There, you'll find full details of how the scheme works and who is eligible.

Barclays are using their financial expertise to support people who need it most.

This includes access to banking, skills to manage money, where to go for help if you are facing financial difficulties and building a secure financial future through enterprise.

So help us and Barclays Money Skills make a difference by applying today.

Man denies rape of girl and sex assault charges

A 43-YEAR-OLD man has denied allegations that he raped a child.

Jason Cutts, of Birdwood Road, Cambridge, also denies indecently assaulting the girl.

Cutts faces six charges of raping the girl when she was aged between 11 and 13.

The offences are alleged to have been committed between December 2002 and November 2005.

He also faces two charges that he indecently assaulted the girl on occasions between March 2001 and November 2001.

It is alleged that some of the offences took place in Haverhill.

Ipswich Crown Court was told that Cutts was also pleading not guilty to 13 charges of making indecent images of a child, one of possession of indecent images of a child and distributing indecent images of a child in June last year.

Appearing with Cutts was Phillip Skinner, 60, of Kitchen Hill, Bulmer, near Sudbury, who denied raping a 14-year-old girl between December 2005 and November 2006.

Skinner also denied 18 charges of making indecent images of a child, and one of possession of indecent images of a child in June 2010.

Judge David Goodin released Cutts and Skinner on conditional bail until their trial, which is due to begin on February 7 and last up to a fortnight.

Church founder visits for talks

A FOUNDER of an active church in Scotland will be the speaker next week at a healing service hosted by River of Life Community Church.

Andrew Owen, who founded Glasgow's Destiny Church with his wife Sue, was invited to visit Haverhill after a member of the River of Life Church heard him speak at a conference about healings which have taken place at his church. It will take place at Haverhill Arts Centre on Friday, October 8.

He will also be speaking the following day on the subject of 'Growing Church in Today's Culture' at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College between 9am and 4pm. There is a charge of £10 for the Saturday event and tickets can be pre-booked on (01440) 712288 or emailing admin@rolcc.org.uk.

Little readers hop into library

YOUNGSTERS who took part in a summer holiday reading challenge received medals and certificates at Haverhill library on Sunday. The youngsters completed the Space Hop reading challenge, which was promoted at libraries during the summer holidays when space-themed craft activities were staged at the town's library.

Fundraisers put the kettle on for cancer support

STAFF at a building society donned their pinnies to serve customers and passers-by as part of the World's Biggest Coffee Morning last week.

The team at the Ipswich Building Society's Haverhill branch, in the High Street, offered tea, coffee and homemade cakes to help Macmillan Cancer Support's fundraiser.

Paul Winter, chief executive, said: "The World's Biggest Coffee Morning is something we have supported for many years and we are delighted to be hosting an event at our Haverhill location."

Further along the High Street, homemade cakes made by the staff were served by manager Dawn Blunden and her team at Bon Marche. They also held a fundraising raffle.

Macmillan Cancer Support improves the lives of people affected by cancer. It provides practical, medical and financial support and pushes for better cancer care, relying on voluntary donations for 99 per cent of its funding.

A £25 donation could pay for a Macmillan nurse for one hour, providing support and assistance to those with cancer.

The World's Biggest Coffee Morning is the charity's largest fundraising event and it began in 1990. Last year the event raised £7.9 million, with more than 43,000 people registered to take part across the UK.

UK pianist cleans up at solo contest

A BRILLIANT pianist has won this year's Haverhill Sinfonia Soloist competition – and also collected five other top awards.

Haverhill Arts Centre hosted the 21st annual competition on Saturday, attracting a shortlist of 25 musicians from around the world.

But British pianist Richard Uttley was the star of the show and his first prize includes eight performance prizes worth £2,075.

One of those recitals will be at the Cambridge Summer Music Festival and another at The King's School Ely.

He also won awards for the highest-placed pianist; highest-placed pianist, guitarist or harpist; highest-placed prize-winner, other than a singer; highest-placed prize-winner, other than brass; and best performance of a work written since 1950.

Overall he won 20 performance prizes together with £5,000.

Richard, 23, went to Clare College, Cambridge, and graduated in 2008 with a double first in music. He studied piano with Ian Buckle for 10 years and now studies with Martin Roscoe at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama.

In 2008, he made his first CD, Piano, and a second, Sonnets Without Words, was released earlier this year.

The competition offered 38 prizes to the value of £8,800 and 28 solo engagements throughout the UK.

Second prize went to Russian cellist Mikhail Nemtsov, who was also the highest-placed string player and highest-placed violinist or cellist.

Third prize went to another British pianist, James Sherlock.

Fulvio Capra was the highest-placed woodwind player, Serbian soprano Tamara Zivadinovic was the highest-placed singer and Polish horn player Grzegorz Curyla was the highest-placed brass player.

The adjudicating panel was Kevin Hill, music director of Haverhill Sinfonia; Ronan O'Hara, head of keyboard studies and head of advanced performance studies at Guildhall School of Music and Drama; and Gary Ryan, assistant head of strings and professor of guitar, Royal College of Music.

Super soloist: Richard Uttley.

Antique's man at the top of his game

AN antiques dealer from Steeple Bumpstead has been selected by his peers as the chairman of their county's trade association.

Graham Hessell, founder and owner of Bumpstead Antiques & Interiors, takes over the top post in the Essex Antique Dealers'

Association.

He said the association was set up to raise the level of professionalism in the industry and to improve its perception among the public.

He said: "I think it is very important to have a recognised trade association to regulate members in their dealing with the public."

His company has its main shop and showrooms in the Blois Meadow Business Centre in Steeple Bumpstead, on the county borders of Essex, Cambridgeshire and Suffolk. Another shop trades as Cavendish Antiques & Interiors in the Suffolk village.

The shops stock a varied range of quality antique furniture dating from the 17th century onwards, including display cabinets, dining tables, sofas and wardrobes.

City runner raises £625

EXTREME runner Sara Sheppard raised £625 for the British Heart Foundation by taking part in a race from London to Brighton. She set off at 6am from Blackheath and arrived 13 hours later in Brighton.

Sara, of Blenheim Close, Haverhill (pictured below), said: "It was an amazing experience, with fantastic scenery along the way. The course itself was multi-terrain, including woodlands, grassy paths and the South Downs Way. "We had to use a compass to help us follow the route on the OS map we were given. "We had great weather, and the marshals and supporters provided us with lots of encouragement, drinks and snacks. It has to be the hardest thing I have ever done but worth every moment.

"A huge thank you to Zoe, my running partner, who drove me to the race the night before and got up ridiculously early on the day (4am) to come and see me off. She met me several times on route and cheered me through the finish line before bringing me home. "Also a big thank you to all my family and friends who have been so supportive of my efforts."

Celebrate country life with the 'rural Oscars'

HAVERHILL'S MP Matthew Hancock is supporting the sixth annual Countryside Alliance Awards by encouraging his constituents to nominate a local business.

Nicknamed "the rural Oscars", the awards celebrate people going the extra mile to ensure that rural Britain's food and farming industry, small businesses, traditional skills, forward-thinking enterprises and most of all, its people, can flourish.

Mr Hancock, whose West Suffolk constituency also includes Newmarket areas, said: "These awards are a terrific way for local communities to show their appreciation of those who support our rural way of life in West Suffolk.

"We all know people who work hard to support our communities, without them life would be that bit poorer. I would encourage everyone to nominate their favourite local business. It is time that people of West Suffolk got the national recognition they deserve."

There are eight categories including a local food award, village shop or post office, enterprise award, traditional business award, butcher, rural hero over 16 and rural hero aged 15 and under, and the grassroots award for the Countryside Alliance member who has done most to advance rural campaigning during the year.

Nominations can be submitted at www.countrysideallianceawards.co.uk

Screening plea to cut breast cancer

WOMEN are being encouraged not to ignore their invitation for screening in the battle to beat breast cancer.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month and NHS Suffolk is encouraging women to take the opportunity to have a mammogram at West Suffolk Hospital.

Hossein Khaled, NHS Suffolk public health screening lead, said: "It is vital that women, when sent an invitation for breast screening, do attend the appointment.

"Screening helps identify disease at an early stage - this increases the likelihood of better outcomes should disease be identified."

Foreign food gets a roasting in survey

TRADITIONAL British pies, roasts and puddings go down better than Indian and Chinese cuisine in Cambridgeshire, a survey has revealed.

Research carried out by food supplier Brakes showed three out of four people in the region prefer regional produce and traditional dishes.

Seventy-six per cent of people in the survey said it was important for restaurants to serve products grown or produced in their area, to help local businesses.

Of the people polled, 61 per cent thought a roast dinner best summed up contemporary British cuisine.

The survey was carried out to mark British Food Fortnight, which is running until Sunday.

Time-travelling car to star at film screening

A DELOREAN car will be parked outside Haverhill's Cineworld complex tomorrow to promote the digital re-release of Back to the Future.

The event will mark the 25th anniversary of the release of the original smash-hit movie.

The silver-coloured car, similar to the one which featured in the film, will be on show from 7.30pm.

Stour Valley in the spotlight for trust

THE date has been set for the next meeting of the Haverhill branch of Suffolk Wildlife Trust.

The group will meet at the East Town Park centre in Coupsals Road at 7.45pm on Wednesday, October 15.

Neil Catchpole, from the Stour Valley Project, will be on hand to talk on 'Wildlife and Times in the Stour Valley'.

Admission is £2.

It came from outer space: astronomer Peter Ingram shows Edward Bacon and Saffron Purr, both 9, a piece of a meteorite. Below, he also spoke to the pupils about the solar system.

Space talk is out of this world . . .

YOUNGSTERS were able to hold bits of rock from space when an astronomer visited their school.

Peter Ingram, a Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society and a freelance astronomer, gave a talk about the solar system to pupils at Haverhill's Coupsals Primary School.

He brought in pieces of meteorites as well as a variety of photographs, including some from NASA, the American space agency. Children in Years 4 and 5 at the school listened to his presentation as part of their topic on space.

Teacher Angie Killingback said: "The children and adults found him fascinating and he certainly kept our attention the whole time with lots of interesting facts."

Musical Matthew is first with UCS degree

ONE of the first students to earn a degree from University Campus Suffolk (UCS) comes from Haverhill.

Matthew Plum spent six years studying at West Suffolk College and University Campus Suffolk, Bury St Edmunds.

Matthew, 22, progressed from the First Diploma Music course to a BA (Hons) in Music Production. He graduated from UCS Bury St Edmunds this month.

Steven Coltart, course director, said: "Matthew has been studying here for six years and is an excellent example for prospective new learners."

Matthew said: "UCS Bury St Edmunds has given me the opportunity to achieve a higher level of study in a good friendly environment with close one-to-one tuition, something which I might not have received at a larger university."

"The facilities and equipment within the music department are of a high standard and allowed me to keep up to date with a constantly changing industry."

"I am really glad I continued my education with West Suffolk College and UCS Bury St Edmunds."

Matthew took out a student loan, but said living at home while studying allowed him to develop a range of instruments and recording equipment that helped him complete assignments. It would also continue to help in the future with his activities on the local music scene.

He said: "All of this wouldn't have been possible if I needed to pay for halls of residence."

Trailer smash

A CAR ended up smashed at the side of the busy A1307 at Horseheath after it fell off a trailer.

The vehicle was being towed by a 4X4 when the trailer it was on became detached from the towing vehicle.

A Cambridgeshire police spokeswoman said that luckily no-one was hurt in the crash, which happened at 3.30pm last Thursday.

The road was cleared by 5pm.

A1307 works on hold after grants slashed

BY CHRIS HAVERGAL

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

MORE than £2 million of transport improvements are set to be postponed after the Government pulled the plug.

Projects which will now drift further into the distance include improvements to Cambridge city centre bus stops and a revamp of a busy roundabout.

Major works in market towns and rural areas will also be hit after a central grant was slashed by £2.04 million.

Further specific cuts to handouts totalling £430,000 have also been made, including the loss of £250,000 from a road safety fund which means no more safety cameras will be fitted in Cambridgeshire this year.

The delays to projects were approved by Cambridgeshire County Council's cabinet on Tuesday and will now go before a full meeting of the authority.

The A1307 will suffer from proposed delays to footway and cycle parking improvements, saving £72,000, while putting the provision of information units at bus stops around the county on hold will recoup £490,000.

Some £140,000 which had not been spent from a fund to improve bus stops and identify a site for a new interchange in Cambridge is set to be cut, meaning this work will be delayed, and £50,000 which was set aside to improve the roundabout at the junction of Newmarket Road and Barnwell Road is expected to be lost, so this congestion hotspot will not be revamped until 2011/12 at the earliest.

Development of a bus lane on Houghton Road in St Ives is set to be put on hold, saving £250,000, and £127,000 will be recouped by deferring a safety scheme on Somersham Road in the town.

In St Neots, £91,000 will be saved by postponing improvements to cycle lanes, and £123,000 of bus stop improvements along the A1307 – in Hildersham, Horseheath and Linton – is also expected to be deferred.

Cllr Kilian Bourke, the opposition Liberal Democrats' spokesman, said he believed many of the projects could have been saved if the authority had not pumped so much cash into the guided busway.

But Conservative infrastructure boss Cllr Roy Pegram said it was clear the projects were "unaffordable" at the present time.

Wedding wear to delight everyone

FOR an incredible selection of stunning wedding and formal wear, visit Haverhill's designers and stockists Amanda Julia Couture.

Indulge in stress-free shopping under the period building's glitzy chandeliers, as along with the bridal dress you can also find the groom's suit, bridesmaids' dresses and even the mother-of-the-bride's outfit, all in one go.

Amanda Julia Couture create dresses for brides throughout Suffolk, Haverhill, Norfolk and Cambridgeshire, and their quintessential quality gowns can be made bespoke or to your own designs, for an exclusive look that no-one else will be wearing.

Most dresses in the bridal range are available up to size 32, and include stunning creations from designers such as Trudy Lee, Forever Yours and D'zage, in a variety of cuts and fabrics. Bring your family or friends with you, and take your pick from the different collections, safe in the knowledge that they will take care of any alterations across several fittings.

ADVERTISING FEATURE

Store owner Amanda Julia began designing wedding dresses after a visitor to her final year university fashion exhibition in Halifax commissioned a dress. After this she made bridal gowns for friends and family, before establishing her successful couture shop in 2007. The store has continued to grow and improve its range, with a new mother-of-the-bride selection now in stock. Alongside gorgeous clothes which won't break the bank, the designers can dye handbags to exactly match any outfit, and can organise bespoke fascinators and hats, or a tiara for the bride herself.

Their menswear is designed by Cameron Ross, who have over 35 years' experience in creating classic formal wear, black tie outfits and kilted highland wedding suits.

If that wasn't enough, Amanda Julia Couture also stock evening gowns suitable for school proms or elegant dinners, and bridesmaids' dresses by Veromia Beautiful gowns: Up to size 32.

Wedding Wear and D'zage. They also stock every accessory you can think of, including glamorous shoes, traditional veils and sparkling jewellery.

Understanding the effects of the recession, the store can offer a monthly payment plan to ensure you can afford the dress of your dreams.

So to try wide selection of outfits for the whole wedding party in a luxurious setting, visit Amanda Julia Couture and get everyone looking perfect for your big day.

Amanda Julia Couture is at 1B Queens Street, CB9 9DZ. For more information or to arrange a fitting, call (01440) 714334, or visit www.amandajuliacouture.co.uk.

No gimmicks. No 'new customer only' deals. Just great cover from people who understand insurance.

Motor insurance shocks

Motorists should brace themselves for a nasty shock when they renew their car insurance this year. Premiums are still increasing.

The cost of insurance can be dramatically different from each insurer, making it imperative for customers to shop around. Many motorists have turned to online quote systems to find the best deal but can be caught out with high excesses and deals that are for new customers only. The following year when motorists need to renew, many find premiums have significantly increased and they need to start the whole search process again.

It's not just the costs that are increasing. Levels of claims are up too. Insurers are making big losses – some estimate that for every £1 taken in premiums, £1.22 is paid out in claims. Insurers are also reporting significant rises in personal injury claims. People now seem willing to pursue claims for minor injuries that previously they wouldn't have bothered claiming for – now encouraged by personal injury claims lawyers.

Finding a good insurance broker who searches the market for you and takes care of your claim is an excellent way of securing great cover at a competitive price.

David Beswick, Saffron Insurance Managing Director said: "Looking for consistency is important, we all find it frustrating having to search year on year for the best policy at a competitive price. Let your broker do it for you and we will search a range of deals every year – saving you the trouble". Research from the British Insurance Brokers' Association (BIBA), found 67% of broker respondents said that they had to get tough with insurers on behalf of customers to get claims paid in the current economic climate and 93% regularly negotiate up to a 20% uplift on claims settlements.

Eric Galbraith, BIBA Chief Executive, said: "Insurers are tightening their belts with stricter interpretations of policy wordings. This demonstrates the importance of having a broker to fight your corner during a claim."

The research demonstrated that brokers can also achieve fairer claims payments for consumers. This is achieved through their expert knowledge, technical understanding and expertise in negotiations with insurers; something that is very difficult for individuals to do on their own.

'A single crumb could set my son back six months'

Hug: Sarah and Sebastian.

Picture: Duncan Lamont 679137

PALE, tired and plagued by pains in his legs, Sebastian Ockwell-Smith could barely put one foot in front of the other.

Aged 7, he was on holiday with his family at Disneyland Paris; he should have been having the time of his life. But, tearful, aching and exhausted, he was too weak to walk round the theme park: instead, he had to be pushed round in his baby sister's buggy. "To start with I did the typical mum thing," remembers his mother Sarah. "I said 'Stop being so lazy. You're 7 years old – just walk and stop whinging'. But, by the end of our stay, I was really worried..."

"Looking back at the photos you can see there was something wrong: he was so pale and had huge dark circles under his eyes. He's always been slim but he'd got really skinny – you could actually see his ribs."

Soon after returning from holiday, Sebastian, now 8, was diagnosed with coeliac disease. An autoimmune condition – which causes the body to attack itself, eating away at the intestines – it's triggered by gluten, a protein found in all manner of everyday foods, from bread and cakes to pasta and cereals.

"When we got the diagnosis I felt awful, really upset," recalls Sarah, from Saffron Walden, who also has three younger children. "I'd spent years trying to fatten him up, feeding him homemade cakes and lasagne, which he loves. But all those things are full of gluten – so everything I'd given him was like poison."

Coeliac disease is relatively common: one in 100 people in the UK are thought to have the condition. But awareness of coeliac disease remains remarkably low; of that one in 100, only 12.5 per cent have actually been diagnosed.

"That's the main reason I wanted to do this interview: to raise awareness," says Sarah. "It would just be really nice to go into any restaurant and find gluten-free options on the menu; not just hippie dishes full of lentils, things like sausage and chips that a little boy would enjoy."

"When I ask for a burger without a bun – and specify that it can't be a burger that's just been taken out of the bun, because there will still be crumbs on it – I do get some very strange looks. People often treat you as if you're weird and incredibly fussy."

"But the risk of contamination is very high. A single crumb of gluten would trigger an immune response in Sebastian: it would give him stomach ache, an upset tummy and it would set his health back six months."

Sarah and her husband Ian married in 2000 and, after 'a couple of years of money and free time', decided to start a family. Sebastian was born in 2002 and, weighing in at 10lb, was a happy and healthy baby.

Sarah breast-fed for the first 20 weeks of Sebastian's life. During that time he continued to thrive. But then, when the time came to wean, his weight gain began to tail off.

"By the time he was six months old, he was the smallest of all the babies we knew," remembers Sarah, who has subsequently trained in hypno-birthing and become a professional doula (providing practical and emotional support to mums-to-be). "But the health visitor said he was fine, that babies shouldn't be too fat. We thought he was just taking after me: although Ian's over 6ft, I'm only 5ft 1in tall."

When Sebastian started school, aged 4, his small stature became more evident than ever. "He was the smallest in his whole class, smaller than all the girls," adds Sarah.

"Then, as he got a bit older and more vocal about how he was feeling, he started telling us that his legs ached; he said he didn't want to play football because his legs hurt. We thought it was growing pains – a lot of his friends were having them."

Things came to a head on the family's trip to Disneyland last year. Sebastian's younger siblings – Flynn, 6, Rafferty, 5, and Violet, 3 – were all loving every moment. But Sebastian said the pains in his legs were worse than ever; in tears, he swapped places with Violet, then 2, who was still in a pushchair. "In the end she walked round Disneyland and he went round in the buggy," Sarah explains.

On returning from France, Sarah booked an appointment with the GP. By then she'd noticed Energetic: the change in Sebastian's health has been dramatic.

679146.

“People often treat you as if you're weird and incredibly fussy – but the risk of contamination is very high.”

another strange symptom: smelly breath. Sarah's father had been diagnosed with coeliac disease, an inherited condition, in middle age – and one of his symptoms was halitosis.

“I Googled it, as you do, and it turned out that tiredness, being emotional, being skinny, aching legs – they're all symptoms of coeliac disease in children,” adds Sarah. “So we went to see the doctor and I requested a blood test.”

“The GP was reluctant. To be honest, I think they only did it to humour me. But the test came back positive.”

Further tests at Addenbrooke's confirmed Sebastian was a coeliac. When coeliacs consume gluten, it provokes an unwanted immune response in the body: in simple terms, the body starts to attack itself, eating away at the intestines.

In a healthy person, the inner surface of the gut is almost frilly in appearance, covered in little fronds; known as villi, they facilitate the absorption of nutrients from food as it passes through the intestines.

In untreated coeliacs, the surface of the gut is all shiny and smooth: under constant attack, the villi have atrophied.

“He'd been absorbing hardly any goodness from his food,” explains Sarah. “If the condition is left untreated, it can cause all kinds of problems: full-blown malnutrition, an increased risk of certain cancers, osteoporosis, infertility...”

There is no cure for coeliac disease and the only treatment is lifelong adherence to a strict gluten-free diet. “We explained to Sebastian that it was nothing scary, it just meant changing his food,” continues Sarah. “We told him that he'd have loads more energy and that his legs wouldn't hurt any more and he was really excited.”

Sarah says Sebastian, whom she describes as sweet, sensitive and very artistic, has never once complained about eating special food. But she admits adjusting to his gluten-free diet was a challenge for the whole family.

“Buying pre-cooked gluten-free food is expensive: my shopping bill went up £50 a week to start with,” adds Sarah. “But nowadays I make almost everything from scratch. We're a gluten-free house, so I know it's safe for him.”

Thanks to the support charity Coeliac UK – Sarah is now on the committee of the Cambridge branch – the Ockwell-Smiths receive a regularly updated handbook, listing all permitted foods: Kellogg's Cornflakes are, for example, a no-no, while most supermarket brands are safely gluten-free.

Sebastian gets the basics, such as substitute bread and pasta, on prescription, which means he can still have a sandwich in his lunchbox

Coeliac: The Facts

- Coeliac disease is an autoimmune disease caused by intolerance to gluten, a protein found in wheat, rye and barley (some people are also sensitive to oats).

- 1 in 100 people in the UK has coeliac disease, however it's estimated that only 12.5 per cent of these have been diagnosed.

- The average length of time between onset and diagnosis is 13 years.

- Symptoms can include bloating, abdominal pain, nausea, constipation, diarrhoea, wind, tiredness, anaemia, headaches, mouth ulcers, recurrent miscarriages, weight loss, skin problems, depression, joint or bone pain and nerve problems.

- If a gluten-free diet is not followed, the disease can ultimately lead to malnutrition, osteoporosis, bowel cancer and infertility.

- There is no cure for the condition; the only treatment is life-long adherence to a strict gluten-free diet.

For further information, call Coeliac UK's helpline on 0870 444 8804 or visit www.coeliac.org.uk.

The Cambridgeshire branch of Coeliac UK is hosting its first ever food fair in the city this winter.

Taking place at Meadows Community Centre, St Catharine's Road, on December 4, the fair will showcase all kinds of gluten-free goodies, from cakes to fish and chips. To find out more email Cambridge@coeliac.org.uk and his favourite lasagne for dinner.

“The hardest thing of all is parties. He'll go along and all his mates are tucking into sausage rolls and cakes and he can't have any of it – I have to pack him up a separate lunch box of food.”

“When you're 8 you just want to be the same as everyone else. He doesn't complain, but I know it must be really hard. When he goes to a party I always feel a bit sad.”

Eating out is also a real challenge. But since cutting out gluten, the change in Sebastian's health has been dramatic. “He's got loads more energy, his legs don't hurt, he's gained weight, he doesn't have the dark circles... He's still a bit stumpy, but that's because he's an 8-year-old boy,” laughs Sarah.

“If anyone reading this has got any of the symptoms, I'd encourage them to visit the GP and get checked out. So many people are living with this disease without knowing. “We know firsthand how much difference a diagnosis – and treatment – can make.”

Court threat over mud

HIGHWAYS chiefs are urging farmers, lorry drivers and developers to leave roads clear of mud – or face action.

Cambridgeshire County Council made the plea as autumnal, wet conditions are more likely to result in mud being left by agricultural and construction vehicles. The council's roads chief, Cllr Mac McGuire, said: "Traditionally these next few months see an increase in the amount of mud left on Cambridgeshire's roads."

"We understand that some is going to be deposited when vehicles go on and off fields and building sites, but we are asking that farmers or developers make sure the roads are cleaned up afterwards."

He said anyone known to be leaving roads in a muddy and dangerous condition may have action taken against them. "The police can become involved and it is better if mud is cleared before that is necessary," he added.

Youth share green issues

CHILDREN are more influential than scientists and politicians when it comes to keeping their parents up to speed with environmental issues. A new report by the Pod, EDF Energy's programme for greener schools, found parents in the East of England are twice more likely to listen to their children on green issues than scientists and politicians.

Forty-three per cent of parents surveyed said they come under pressure from their kids to be more environmentally friendly.

Almost a third of parents admitted their children are more clued up on some environmental issues than they are.

The Pod has free teaching resources to help schools inspire children to learn about environmental issues.

Coaching sessions set to help patients take control

NURSES from GP practices will receive expert training for a new patient coaching project.

The project will help nurses teach patients with long-term health conditions how they can help themselves without the support of a nurse.

Funding worth £95,000 has been secured from the NHS East of England Innovation Fund. It will allow 16 nurses from eight GP practices across the county to receive training in coaching techniques.

GP Dr Penny Newman, who is leading the project, said: "Out of almost 200 applications for an Innovations Fund grant, NHS Suffolk was one of only eight that were successful.

"Nurses will be given extra time to talk to patients and, with their new coaching skills, will be able to identify what motivates them to take responsibility for their condition and in turn take more control of it."

Patients with long-term conditions will be targeted including those suffering from diabetes, asthma, emphysema and rheumatological problems such as osteoporosis.

The project will begin next month and run for an initial period of nine months.

Samuel Ward Arts & Technology College OPEN EVENINGS

Welcome: To Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College.

Challenging environment ensures pupils give best

SAMUEL Ward Arts and Technology College is known for its outstanding teaching, which manages to challenge pupils in a warm, supportive environment.

More than half of its lessons have been judged outstanding, and it is a national centre for developing Advanced Skills teachers with four national assessors.

This has produced very high outcomes: the school performs in the top 5 per cent nationally for value added outcomes, and has been consistently within the top five of Suffolk secondary schools. Nearly 90 per cent of pupils regularly gain five A*-C grade passes at GCSE. Results are just as high at A-level with many students exceeding their predictions and gaining top university places.

Samuel Ward provides a safe, disciplined environment for all pupils. Years 7 and 8 will soon have their own purpose built accommodation, to complement their distinctive curriculum and separate lunchtime. From this secure base the full resources of the college are at hand to broaden and enrich the experience of new pupils. No pupils are in tutor groups larger than 14 to ensure effective support, and all belong to one of three 'houses' - each with a distinctive identity and culture.

Key Stage 3 has been streamlined to just two years, enabling pupils to access GCSE courses a year early in order begin A-level courses in Year 11, with three years to complete their studies. The GCSE programme ensures a wide choice but all pupils are encouraged to study maths, English, science, a foreign language and a humanities subject.

Pupils and their parents are informed of their progress every six weeks, time is available during the school day in which a learning tutor can help with homework and pupils are expected to choose up to three enrichment activities per week. With strong links and regular exchanges with China, France and India, the school provides a full range of opportunities for students with ambition.

Samuel Ward is both an outstanding school with a national and international reputation for its innovative approaches to learning, and one of the first in Suffolk to gain Academy status. It really does meet the aims of its motto: "The best way to predict the future...is to create it."

TV favourites square up for stage debut

A new production of Sheridan's classic comedy of manners, The Rivals, starring national treasures Penelope Keith and Peter Bowles, comes to the stage in Cambridge next week.

Famous for their lead roles in one of the most watched British sitcoms of all time, To The Manor Born, the pair will be reunited at the Cambridge Arts Theatre from Monday – the first time they have appeared together on stage.

Directed by internationally-acclaimed Peter Hall, The Rivals promises to be the highlight of the theatre's autumn season.

It's 1775 and the fashionable world descends on Bath to take the waters, show off their finery, enjoy the gossip and pursue romance. Amongst them are some of the most extraordinary comic characters to grace the stage – the verbally misguided Mrs Malaprop (Keith), her absurdly romantic niece, Lydia Languish, the blinkered Sir Anthony Absolute (Bowles), the blustering Irishman

Sir Lucius O'Trigger and the bumpkin Bob Acres. Throughout the course of a single day these suitors and schemers and their servants indulge in an assortment of hilariously extravagant intrigues before everyone is paired off to their own satisfaction.

Keith is known to millions of television viewers for her roles in the long-running series The Good Life and To The Manor Born, along with a long list of other well-received small screen credits.

Her stage career has included seasons with the Royal Shakespeare Company in Stratford-upon-Avon and London, Entertaining Angels, The Importance of Being Earnest, The Merry Wives of Windsor, Relatively Speaking, Mrs Warren's Profession and Blithe Spirit.

Bowles is one of Britain's most distinguished actors whose other starring roles on television include The Bounder and The Irish RM. His recent West End credits include Hay Fever, The Old Masters and Sleuth. He was last seen in The Browning Version and Swansong in the 2009 Peter Hall Company Season which toured to great acclaim.

He has worked with Hall on many occasions, also playing leading roles in productions of School for Wives, Major Barbara, The Royal Family and Love's Labour's Lost.

Joining them will be Gerard Murphy, who earlier this year starred as Hector in The History Boys, which came to Cambridge, and Keiron Self, a familiar face from his role as Roger in the hugely popular BBC 1 comedy My Family. Tony Gardener, who appeared in and wrote many episodes of My Parents are Aliens, and Robyn Addison, who was most recently seen in the BBC drama series Survivors will also step on stage.

■ The Rivals, Cambridge Arts Theatre, Monday to Saturday, October 9, 7.45pm nightly with Thursday and Saturday matinee at 2.30pm, £15/ £25/ £30/ £35, book on (01223) 503333 or www.cambridgearts-theatre.com

Twin pianos

PERFORMING a little-known concerto by Max Bruch, the well-known Cann twins will be in Cambridge this Saturday. Claire and Antoinette Cann, joined by the Sinfonia of Cambridge, will be playing the concerto for two pianos, a major work which has been favourably compared with his better-known 1st Violin Concerto. The concert will open with the overture Froissart, by Elgar, and the second half is devoted to the second symphony by Jean Sibelius. The orchestra is conducted by Howard Williams and will be performed at the West Road Concert Hall in Cambridge. Tickets are £15 (£13 concessions) from the Corn Exchange Box Office and at the door. More Bishop

CURRENT comedy hot property John Bishop will play a second Cambridge Corn Exchange date next spring. Bishop's March 30 show is already sold out, but he has added an extra date the following night. Tickets are now on sale. Contact (01223) 357851 or www.cornex.co.uk

... and Blunt

JAMES Blunt has announced a Cambridge gig next year. The soldier-turned-mega-selling acoustic troubador will play the Corn Exchange on March 1 as part of a world tour to promote his third album, Some Kind of Trouble. Tickets are now on sale. Call (01223) 357851 or see www.cornex.co.uk

Hard way to the top for guitar star Lisbee

WINNING OVER FANS, ONE BY ONE: Lisbee Stainton is back on the road for her own tour.

HAVING already played 73 dates across the UK and Europe supporting the legendary Joan Armatrading during 2010, Lisbee Stainton returns with her new single, Harriet.

Released on September 20 to coincide with the UK leg of her tour, which stops off in Cambridge tomorrow, Harriet is the latest single to be taken from 22-year old Lisbee's critically-acclaimed album, Girl On An Unmade Bed, which was recorded at Abbey Road in the legendary Beatles Studio 2 with producer Rupert Christie (U2, Kate Bush, Coldplay, Lou Reed) and was released in March this year.

Unusually, Lisbee wrote Harriet in order to get some peace and quiet: "When I was at university my friend Harriet kept hassling me to write a song about her. In the end I did just so she'd stop going on about it," Lisbee reveals. "I'm sure Harriet will be shocked when she finds out she's now the subject of my new single. That'll teach her!"

Once described as "the English Rose with the eight-string guitar", London-based Lisbee launched her career when she became the first unsigned singer-songwriter to play London's O2 Arena, performing to a 30,000 strong audience. BBC 6 Music DJ Tom Robinson then asked Lisbee for a copy of her song Red after hearing it on her MySpace page. This then led to the track being playlisted by BBC Radio 2 for five weeks at the start of 2009.

Lisbee has since had the single Never Quite An Angel playlisted by Radio 2, had another single, Just Like Me, voted Record of The Week on Radio 2's Radcliffe & Maconie Show and played live sessions for BBC 6 Music and BBC Radio London's Robert Elms Show.

Lisbee also appeared alongside stars such as Katie Melua and Judy Garland on a new compilation called Latest and Greatest Women of Song, released in July 2010.

Speaking about her forthcoming tour, Lisbee said: "I made a lot of friends across the UK and Europe during the tour with Joan Armatrading, so it's exciting to be invited back to so many of the same towns and cities with my own headline show."

By the end of 2010 Lisbee will have spent over six months of the year on tour, cementing her reputation as not just one of the UK's brightest songwriting talents but also one of the UK's hardest working.

She added: "I'm doing it the old way, the hard way, winning new fans one by one."

Laughs back at the J2

AFTER its summer break – and hosting the successful Cambridge Comedy Festival – Jesterlarf Comedy Club returns to Cambridge with some of the very best comedians from the UK club circuit.

First up at The Junction's J2 tomorrow night is Junior Simpson, Otiz Cannelloni, Julian Deane and Chris Gilbert.

Dynamic headliner Simpson (Have I Got News For You and Nevermind the Buzzcocks) unleashes his tour de force observational humour. Support comes from London Palladium performer Cannelloni with his hilarious Tommy Cooper-style tricks and gags and talented and original New Act Of The Year 2010 winner Deane and quick witted and sharp dressed compere Gilbert.

The club will also be introducing a new cabaret style layout in J2 and group bookings of six or more can reserve a table in advance for the first Friday of every month. Table availability is limited, so early booking is recommended.

Tickets for tomorrow's show are £12 from (01223) 511 511. Doors open at 7.45pm for an 8.30pm start.

The big film

THE TOWN

BEN Affleck may be best known as an actor but the chisel-jawed leading man is steadily delivering his best work behind the camera.

He already has an Oscar on the mantelpiece as co-writer of Good Will Hunting and his directorial debut Gone Baby Gone was a gritty adaptation of Dennis Lehane's novel that garnered numerous critical plaudits.

For his second feature in the director's chair, Affleck remains on the streets of Boston for a taut heist thriller based on the novel Prince Of Thieves by Chuck Hogan.

The Town is a well-crafted and vivid portrait of a close-knit community of men with a strict code of silence that condemns those whose speak out of turn to an early grave.

What the film may lack in originality it makes up for in exhilarating action sequences and strong performances, with Affleck noticeably giving himself the least showy role and allowing his co-stars to chew the scenery.

The film is set in Charlestown, Massachusetts, the one-square-mile neighbourhood that apparently produces more armoured car and bank robbers than anywhere else in America. Doug MacRay (Ben Affleck) is doomed to repeat the mistakes of his father Stephen (Chris Cooper), who is serving time in a maximum security prison, as mastermind of a team of four bank robbers comprising trigger-happy best friend Jem (Jeremy Renner), Gloansy (Slaine) and Desmond (Owen Burke). On their final job, Jem takes bank manager Claire Keesey (Rebecca Hall) hostage, releasing her once they are safely away from pursuing cops. Fearing that the terrified woman may identify them, Doug engineers a meeting in a laundrette and slowly develops an attraction to Claire, who has no idea she is falling in love with the man who pointed a gun at her head hours earlier. Meanwhile, FBI Special Agent Frawley (Jon Hamm) treads on the toes of Boston Police Detective Dino Ciampa (Titus Welliver) to apprehend the thieves and bring down money man Fergie Colm (Pete Postlethwaite).

The Town cranks up the tension as Doug struggles to keep his affair with Claire secret from Jem and the posse. Once the apparent betrayal comes to light, it ignites a powder keg of emotions that rocks the neighbourhood to its foundations.

Affleck as director makes light work of the two-hour running time and energises the set pieces. The only surprise is how long it takes Affleck to reach the resolution we can see coming a mile off.

Planting mix up with perfect companions

Did you know that a border of lavender will protect plants from slug and snail invasions, or that chives help prevent blackspot and increase performance in roses?

For more than 30 years, Bob Flowerdew, a regular panellist on BBC Radio 4's Gardeners' Question Time, has observed useful interactions between different plants, how some will flourish together while others will fail, and with this in mind he has now penned Companion Planting, an invaluable little guide to the best – and worst – plant partners.

History reveals that companion planting goes back centuries, he explains.

"Darwin said that in a village with more old ladies, there would be better crops of hay. This was because old ladies tended to keep cats. More cats mean less mice. Mice raid and live in bumblebee nests. Bumblebees are the main pollinator for clover, more bees, more clover. Farmers have long known that you get a bigger crop of hay where you have more clover. It's a chain of events, which is what ecology's all about.

"We commonly grow around

by Hannah Stephenson

5,000 cultivars in our gardens. It would be very unlikely that not one affected any other one, with a leaf secretion, root secretion, leaving a root channel behind for another to follow, leaving leaves of a higher percentage of phosphate or calcium.

"Over the years I've accumulated interesting snippets of what gardeners have observed, one plant getting on well with another. For example, I was growing crops in a polytunnel and noticed that where radishes were being grown, the peppers did really badly. One reason is competition for scarce resources."

There are ways to put this type of knowledge to your advantage, he says.

"A good example is the leguminous pea and bean family, whose members usually create a fertility surplus. By interplanting legumes with other more demanding plants we satisfy the latter's needs without continuing effort or expense.

"So sweet peas, lupins, brooms, laburnums and many others help feed other flowers around them, and peas and French beans feed your cabbages and sweetcorn.

"Simultaneously, this mingling misleads and confuses pests and obstructs the spread of diseases."

However, not all plants get on. Some of the allium family are unhappy growing near some legumes – for example, onions don't do well near beans.

Soil types and locations are all-important, and you find that plants which have traditionally been grouped together tend to get along, he observes.

"So you find that the Mediterranean bed of silver foliage plants is a natural grouping of plants which like dry, well-drained, sunny positions," Flowerdew says. "The silvery colour is the hairs on the leaves which is their adaptation to prevent them losing moisture, and they don't like damp."

Very few plants are choked out by their own seedlings coming up beneath them, he explains, because a lot of plants have learned to stop their seeds from germinating if they are near the parent.

Many plants will benefit other plants by hindering pests and diseases, he adds.

"Roses, for instance, are very prone to blackspot and aphids. If you grow a dense bed of ornamental alliums or garlic or chives underneath the roses, anecdotal evidence would suggest that you get much less fungal disease. A bed of lavender under the roses would keep the aphids away."

Aubergines grow well with peas and thymes, cucumbers like legumes, dill, beet and carrots but dislike potatoes, while tomatoes combine well with basil, alliums and nasturtiums, but not with lettuce and radish.

"Planting dwarf French beans and cabbages together works well against their pests, and mixing brassicas with clover reduces aphid attacks and maintains yields. Broad beans significantly help main crop potatoes, making this another productive combination."

It's equally important to know the plants which don't do well together.

"Beans and onions don't get on. The crow-foot buttercup delphinium family seem to have secretions that harm other plants. They are very

LOOKING FOR A PARTNER: planting lavender under roses will keep away aphids, according to Bob Flowerdew's new book, Companion Planting.

Most glossy-leaved evergreens have substances on their leaves to prevent weed germination, but we can use these as a barrier, he says. If you are sowing seeds, don't put them near glossy evergreens, but if you are growing plants they are a good barrier because they give off scents which confuse pests, and secretions which suppress annual weeds which would otherwise be coming up.

Spread your plants out and mix them up, so that a pest has further to go to find the next one, he advises.

"To find out that you can get 10 or 20 per cent more by putting the right plants together would make a huge difference. It's an area we need to explore in the future," he says.

CXG Property reaches the finals in awards competition

LOCAL Haverhill Letting and Estate Agency CXG Property Services has received nominations and reached the finals of the Landlord and Letting awards for 2010. There are three categories – Innovation, Property Sourcing and Letting Agent. CXG understand that they are the only firm shortlisted as a finalist in all three categories. This year, there were four times as many entries as in 2009 and the judging panel praised all finalists for their extremely high quality entries, saying: "CXG can be extremely proud of themselves for reaching this stage." The company has notified the Chief Executive of St Edmundsbury Council and the local MP, who they expect will be delighted to see a local business being nominated for such a prestigious award. Director Robin Pillely said: "I am extremely proud of all the staff at CXG as these are difficult times for everybody in the business community and it shows that the ethos of CXG - hard work, dedication and delivering on our promises – has been recognised. We hope to continue to grow and assist in bringing prosperity and employment opportunities to the town."

Jazz makes you happy

THE used runabout costing less than £3,000 that's least likely to leave you stranded on the hard shoulder is – the Honda Jazz.

Leading UK motoring aftercare firm Warranty Direct analysed its 50,000 current policies to confirm that the Jazz supermini is the small car least likely to let its driver down, and is also cheap to repair if it does develop a fault.

The Vauxhall Astra is second in Warranty Direct's top 10 list, and Toyota's trusty little Yaris completes the top three recommendations.

To measure overall reliability, the firm reviewed rate of failure, average mileage, age, and repair costs. Honda's Jazz has only an 8 per cent chance that it will break down in an average year, and costs an average of £231.59 when a fault does occur.

Likewise, only 11 per cent of Astra owners make a claim during a typical year. At the other end of the 10-car table, 23 per cent of Citroen C3s suffer a fault in an average year, although owners can expect bills of just £211.90.

Just over half of Daewoo Matiz drivers report axle and suspension faults, reports Warranty Direct, while a fifth of Fiat Punto models suffer engine woes.

The firm's managing director, Duncan McClure

Fisher, says: "Our research should be reassuring to those with a modest budget, although any vehicle can land you with a large bill if you are unlucky, particularly when a car moves into its fourth and fifth year."

7.3-litres and a stunning V12 producing 750bhp

ASTON Martin's ultimate expression of design, engineering, and craftsmanship, the One-77, is being readied for production. The 7.3-litre V12 engine, as part of the development process, has been certified at 750bhp and 750Nm of torque, positioning it as the most powerful naturally aspirated road car engine in the world today.

In the fourth part of the One-77 film series released this week, Dr Ulrich Bez, CEO of Aston Martin and Marek Reichman, director of design, discuss the fundamental elements of what makes the One-77 so unique. The film shows the first complete engineering car in motion on the test track.

The One-77 will be built at the marque's global headquarters in Gaydon, Warwickshire. Over the past nine months, the One-77 has been undergoing Aston Martin's rigorous engineering test programme. The car, despite its exclusive volume of only 77, is being subjected to the same engineering development process as the current range of acclaimed sports cars. This includes extreme hot and cold testing plus sign-off at the Nürburgring Nordschleife; the world's toughest and most unforgiving test track.

In April, the One-77 made its on-road debut as part of the Tourist Trophy where it led a parade of supercars taking the Trophy from London's Pall Mall to the Silverstone circuit where it performed some hot laps.

Dr Ulrich Bez said: "The One-77 is approaching a production reality and of course, there is considerable excitement in the project. Now the next steps are all about details and refinement to complete the composition. I know the final car will demonstrate what the Aston Martin team is capable of."

Deliveries of the One-77 are expected to commence in early 2011. For access to the fourth part of the One-77 film series visit the Aston Martin YouTube channel at www.youtube.com/astonmartin.

New Range Rover Evoques the style of a concept car stunner

THE all-new Range Rover Evoque will make its public debut at the 2010 Paris Motor Show this week.

The Evoque brings the acclaimed Land Rover's LRX concept car into production reality, faithfully capturing the original design of this landmark cross-coupe concept.

In keeping with the ethos of Range Rover, the Evoque delivers premium levels of craftsmanship, luxury, performance, and renowned Land Rover all-terrain capability into a shrink-wrapped, more compact package.

"These are exciting times for our business," said CEO Dr Ralf Speth.

"Not only will the Range Rover Evoque increase our worldwide market share, it helps to define a new segment for premium compact SUVs that are more sporting and stylish."

Offering CO2 emissions sub-130g/km and fuel economy of 58mpg combined, the Evoque is the lightest, most fuel-efficient Range Rover ever and a demonstration of the marque's commitment to environmental sustainability.

Lightweight construction techniques and the addition of a front-wheel drive variant ensure optimum efficiency is achieved.

The new state-of-the-art petrol and diesel engines come with direct injection and stop-start. The Range Rover Evoque also adopts low CO2 systems such as Electric Power-Assisted Steering (EPAS) and is built to maximise end of life recyclability.

The Evoque's dramatic exterior is based on the LRX concept car, which drew worldwide acclaim for its fresh interpretation of classic Range Rover design cues.

Smart design and meticulous engineering has allowed the LRX concept to be turned into reality without compromising the core Range Rover values of luxury, refined performance, and all-terrain capability.

The Evoque's cabin is lavishly appointed with premium quality materials and an elegance befitting of a Range Rover interior.

Customers can specify soft, premium leather and beautifully tailored, twin-needle stitching providing a luxurious finish to almost every surface of the instrument panel, doors and seats.

A lower driving position offers a more sporting feel but retains Range Rover's renowned Command Driving Position.

Headroom is generous compared with traditional sporting saloons, despite the low-profile coupé roofline.

On the open road, the Range Rover Evoque offers a driving experience that combines dynamic and sporty handling with responsive, effortless performance and refinement.

Murray Dietsch, director of Land Rover programmes, said: "We've tuned the Range Rover Evoque's chassis and Electric Power-Assisted Steering (EPAS) to deliver precise and responsive steering at lower speeds, making the car nimble and fun to drive."

Adaptive Dynamics uses advanced MagneRide™ dampers to provide a supple, controlled ride. The suspension delivers even tighter body control, with flatter handling and sharper responses.

The Range Rover Evoque: Nimble and fun to drive.

Drivers who take their Evoque off-road will be reassured to know that, in addition to generous ground clearance, the car has significantly better breakover, approach, and departure angles than other compact SUVs.

The Evoque will be the first Range Rover to offer customers a choice between a full-time four-wheel-drive system and a lower carbon, front-wheel-drive option for enhanced fuel economy.

Its turbocharged powertrain line-up offers responsive performance, blending four-cylinder efficiency with six-cylinder refinement and power.

Customers can choose between two 2.2-litre turbodiesel derivatives, either 190PS or 150PS.

The front-wheel drive Range Rover Evoque with the 150PS 2.2-litre engine achieves 58mpg and sub-130g/km CO2. The four-wheel-drive 2.2-litre 150PS delivers 50mpg and sub-145g/km CO2.

A 240PS, 2.0-litre Si4 petrol engine has direct fuel injection, turbocharging, and twin variable valve timing for exceptional driveability and fuel efficiency with a 0-60mph time of 7.1 seconds.

The car is on sale next summer. Prices will start at £30,000.

Inside the Evoque: Lavishly appointed.

All set for Top Gear's automotive utopia?

The Top Gear Live "Prototype Tour" 2010, Top Gear's most exciting, ambitious and complex stage show to date, will kick off its globe-trotting adventures at London's Earl's Court this November.

This all-new celebration of automotive utopia will see the debut of the world's first-ever transparent car, Porsches modified beyond all recognition and a custom-made "Godzilla" Nissan GT-R going head-to-head with a police helicopter.

Jeremy Clarkson, Richard

Hammond, and James May will add their usual dose of energetic slapstick bickering and cutting edge cocking about to proceedings.

"It'll make U2's live spectacles look like the wobbly backdrop in a village hall production," says executive show producer, Rowland French. Top Gear Live will take place at MPH: The Prestige and Performance Motor Show at Earl's Court, London, from November 4-7, and the NEC in Birmingham from November 11-14.

Education

CASTLE MANOR BUSINESS & ENTERPRISE COLLEGE
 Headteacher: Ms M Vigar BEd (Hons) NPQH

What have you done today to make you feel proud?

English Teaching Assistant

32.5 hours per week (term time only)
 Salary: Grade 2 Point 10 (£13,874 full-time equivalent)

Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College is a good school with outstanding features (Ofsted 2007). Teaching and learning is good, with well behaved students following an outstanding curriculum, supported by exemplary pastoral care. Set on the Suffolk/Cambridge/Essex borders with easy access to London, Castle Manor has a playground, further education facilities on site and Sixth Form provision.

We want to appoint an enthusiastic and committed Teaching Assistant to support the work of the English Team. This post involves assisting classroom Teachers with literacy + English skills both in the classroom and with students individually. The focus of much of the work will be supporting the learning of older students preparing for their GCSE and A Level examinations. The successful candidate will also contribute to the general support of other aspects of work in the College.

As an Investor in People employer, you would be part of a strong, professional and welcoming staff team. We invite you to come and take a look around our College at any time.

Castle Manor Business & Enterprise College is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children & young people and expects all staff & volunteers to share this commitment. This post is subject to pre-employment checks and an Enhanced CRB disclosure.

Closing date: Monday 11th October 2010

For an application pack and/or an informal discussion about this post contact Ms Gill Mitchell, Vice Principal's PA, telephone 01440 705501 ext. 210

PLACE FARM COMMUNITY PRIMARY SCHOOL

A member of the Castle Partnership of Schools

Principal: Ms M A Vigar

Head of School: Miss S Torrance

What have you done today to make you feel proud?

Key Stage 2 Teacher MPS

We are looking for a talented and enthusiastic lower KS2 primary practitioner who demonstrates consistently high standards of learning and teaching and is committed to achieving the highest standards of achievement for all of our pupils.

This is an exciting period of change for the school. In September 2010 we joined the Castle Partnership of schools which includes a middle school, Castle Hill Community Middle School and an upper school, Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College. This means that we have access to a wide range of resources, facilities and staff expertise.

At Place Farm we are committed to All Through Education, firmly believing that a love of learning should be nurtured from a very young age and that the traditional phases of education should be integrated to secure continuity, progression and high standards. We are currently expanding to a two form 5-11 primary school and an extensive building programme, providing state of the art facilities is already underway.

You will join a team of hard working, committed colleagues and work with enthusiastic and motivated pupils. Visits to the school and informal conversations with the Head of School, Sharon Torrance, are most welcome.

For further details and an application form please contact our school Business Manager, Mrs K Anderson, at the school, Camps Road, Haverhill CB9 8HF. Tel: (01440) 702836.

Email: KAnderson@Castlepartnership.org.uk

Web: www.place-farm.co.uk or

Wratting's Jebb leads goal spree

Brampton Spartans 2 West Wratting 9

CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LGE, DIVISION 14B
WEST Wratting dominated from the start in their first meeting with Spartans.

Lewis Massie fed Robert Foster and set up captain Ben Murray to score after 38 seconds.

Murray went on to complete a hat-trick, while Rory Jebb scored four – the best being a terrific left-foot strike from 25 yards.

Earle Lambert scored with a thunderous volley from a Mark Coulson corner and fine work by Ryan Cooper and Alex Horscroft crafted a goal for man-of-the-match Harvey Scott, who netted with a crisp low drive from 20 yards into the bottom corner.

Priory Parkside 6 Withersfield 4

CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LGE, DIVISION 14A
PRIORY gained revenge for their away defeat by Withersfield with a 6-4 home win in an end-to-end game.

Luck seemed to shine on Withersfield when an early own goal put them in front.

Priory equalised shortly afterwards, but Withersfield pushed on to be 3-1 up at half time with a lobbed goal by Joe Baker, and a good strike from Liam Santry.

Withersfield were not allowed to settle and pressure from the home side saw them get back on level terms.

The star of the show was Parkside's Bradley Winfield, with his forging runs scything through the visitors' defence to gain a well-deserved hat-trick to make it 6-3.

A fine late strike from Oliver Fish gave the visitors hope, but the deficit was too large.

Thurlow Youth 2
Shelford & Stapleford Strikers 1
CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LGE, DIVISION 14C
THURLOW had to work hard for the win against a determined Shelford side.

Mason Iron hit a post before Jameson Whitham set up Jason Heffron to score.

Shelford got a deserved equaliser just before half time.

Callum Williamson showed great vision with a slide-rule pass to captain Tommy Bates whose cool finish secured the points.

Shelford made it a nervy finish, forcing keeper Darren Cooley into two fine saves to secure his man-of-the-match award.

Ramsey 0 Haverhill Rovers 9

CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LGE, DIVISION 13A
ROVERS went into this game looking to get back to winning ways and they soon stamped their authority as Leon Bailey and Joe Toffs dominated midfield.

Toffs finally found the back of the net to open the scoring.

They soon increased their lead when Toffs turned his marker to fire home and Charlie Smith then continued his early-season goal scoring form when he added the third. Toffs completed his hat-trick with a 25-yarder into the top corner.

The second half saw goals continued to flow as Rovers added another five, including a hat-trick from Will Bailey.

Smith added his second and Trowbridge got his name on the scoresheet to complete a very impressive performance.

St Ives Rangers 3 West Wratting 3

CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LGE, DIVISION 13C
THE hosts were 2-0 up inside the opening 10 minutes before Wrating got into the game.

The visitors' pressure eventually paid off when man-of-the-match Charlie Ellam scored from outside of the area with a high looping shot.

Ellam soon scored his second following good work by strike partner Ellis Wiffen.

The second half saw the hosts once again take the lead, but this spurred Wrating into life and Wiffen grabbed the equaliser.

Hardwick Harriers 1
Kedington Youth 4
CAMBRIDGE & DIST COLTS LGE, DIVISION 13C

The breakthrough came for the visitors towards the end of the first half when Conor Rankin scored after a couple of efforts had been blocked.

Delight Rovers' duo gain places in county squad

TWO players from Haverhill Rovers under-13s squad have been selected to play for the Cambridgeshire county schools team. Rhys Shulver and Jack Trowbridge, who both attend Linton Village College, came through two trials with Year 8 boys from across Cambridgeshire and were both selected for the 16-man squad that will play in national games across the country. Both starred in their first fixture on Saturday when Cams took on Bedfordshire schools and ran out 3-1 winners. ■ Rhys Shulver and Jack Trowbridge are pictured with Haverhill Rovers under-13 manager Ali Shulver, who has also joined the schools' coaching team. C P

Mary Sails home to Plate success

HAVERHILL GC's ladies' Fraser Plate was won by Mary Sall with a creditable score of 34 points. Lyn Fish was second with 30 and Theresa Spittle took third, also on 30.

■ There were mixed results for Haverhill in recent friendly matches, starting with the ladies, who were hosts to Heydon Grange and lost 2½-1½ in a closely-fought match.

A mixed match against Cambridge Menzies resulted in a 5-2 victory for Haverhill as home advantage paid off.

Haverhill seniors played in five matches in a fortnight. They lost first away to Stoke by Nayland 6-2, but bounced back for their home match against Bury St Edmunds, winning 7 ½-½.

They then lost away at Thetford 5-3 and 6-2 at Colne Valley.

Finally, last Thursday, they played at home to Fynn Valley and won 6-2.

■ The September IFF Challenge was won overall by Dave Cohen with a fine nett 65, which saw his handicap reduced by two shots to 11.

Result: Division One – Andy Gelder 79-11-68, Paul Gardiner 77-8-69 (lowest gross), Michael Warren 79-7-72. Division Two – Dave Cohen 78-13-65, Stewart King 81-13-68, Roger Wheatley 89-19-70. Division Three – Ian Raper 93-24-69, Brian Johnson 94-22-72, Roger Hartley 97-24-73.

■ Haverhill's end-of-season Junior Skills Challenge was attended by 19 juniors. Head professional Paul Wilby, said: "After the success of the earlier Challenge in June, it was great to see another good turnout.

"The rate of progression of our juniors at the golf club has been phenomenal, and they have enjoyed a very successful summer."

The Challenge was based on short game, mid game and long game skills, with accuracy and consistency being the most important factors.

Results: Division One (0-12 handicap) – 1 Liam Merritt, 2 Richard Boyles. Division Two (13-28) – 1 James Higham, 2 Ellis Brown. Division Three (29+) – 1 Edward Halpin, 2 Joel Walter-Smith.

Six of best for hot-shot Roper

AFTER taking a while to get their game together, Rovers scored three quick goals through Charlotte Westrope and Stacey Roper (2). Katie Schulz got on the scoresheet before Bottisham pulled two goals back. In the second half, Rovers created many chances before hitting another four goals with Westrope getting her second and Schulz got two more for her hat-trick. Roper then nabbed three more to Easy rider: Shudy Camps-based racer Nick Green, who has picked up a prestigious championship and is now looking to defend his crown. CP

All go for Green as he takes title

NICK Green has been crowned Derby Phoenix Motorcycle Club Champion in the formula 600 class.

Green, 24, who comes from Shudy Camps and works for TWI, went into the last round at Cadwell Park needing 43 points to clinch the championship that he had been leading for most of the season. The first race, on the Saturday morning, saw him ride steadily in beautiful sunshine to come home second.

As his nearest rival did not score enough points, the result was enough to seal the championship.

Green was surprised to clinch the crown in the first race, so the remainder of the weekend proved a bit of an anti-climax.

However, as it poured with rain on the Sunday, he was relieved the destiny of the title had been settled.

Green's father, Iain, was his mechanic during the season, and, when they were competing in one of the rounds at Snetterton, he drove through the night to pick up a part needed for his son's racing bike. Luckily he finished first the following day, so it was well worth the effort.

The circuits used for the event were as far flung as Anglesey, Oulton Park (Cheshire) and down to Snetterton in Norfolk.

Green rode particularly well on the fast circuits, scoring most of his points at these rounds.

The Shudy Camps rider was consistent all season, finishing on the podium no fewer than 24 times out of a possible 36.

He beat his nearest rival by an impressive 85 points and hopes to defend his title next year, but he is looking for sponsorship to help him achieve this as his bike is fairly standard compared with the advanced electronics on some of his rivals' machines.

Anyone interested in sponsoring Green should ring him on 07833906078.

» Football: Round-up of news from the New Croft

Betts delighted by plucky point

HAVERHILL Rovers had a week of mixed fortune as they picked up a creditable league point, but bowed out of a cup competition.

Rovers' boss Peter Betts (pictured) was a happy man after watching his side hold high-flying Kirkley & Pakefield to a goalless Ridgeons League, Premier Division draw at the New Croft on Saturday.

The manager was without the services of star men Marc Abbott and Dalton O'Brien for the visit of the side who were top before kick off and had beaten Histon reserves 8-0 in their previous outing.

But the hosts battled bravely for 90 minutes and showed why they have only been beaten once in the league this term.

"We set our stall out to get a point as Kirkley were top of the league, and we did very well," said Betts. "We've got to give ourselves credit because we're a lot harder to beat this season."

Rovers were out of luck on Tuesday when they exited the Ridgeons League Cup at the preliminary round stage.

They were beaten 1-0 when they visited near-neighbours Newmarket Town. Jason King volleyed the Jockeys' 75th-minute winner when he was left unmarked inside the box and rifled the ball past Rovers' keeper Matt Morrison.

Louis Harper and Sam Holmes both went close to equalising for Haverhill, but they were denied by the heroics of Newmarket keeper Rob Mackney.

■ Rovers have a busy week coming up, starting with a difficult FA Vase, first round trip to Leiston on Saturday, kick off 3pm).

Leiston are currently lying fourth in the Ridgeons League, Premier Division, but have games in hand on the teams above them.

Subject to a positive outcome to the Vase clash, Haverhill are due to take on Brantham Athletic in a league match at the New Croft on Tuesday (7.45pm).

Haverhill pay price

HAVERHILL Rugby Club could not field a team for their scheduled Greene King IPA Eastern Counties League One match on Saturday, so their opponents, West Norfolk, were awarded a home walkover.
